

To whom it may concern,

To talk about Mrs. Irene Brewda as a music teacher is to be immersed in a very particular music study system, which is her own method, "Brewda". The students learn the logic, the philosophy, the structure and the sense of the music from the first day. Her knowledge of classical music is very extensive, so I consider her course very complete and a true musical training.

Mrs. Irene has given us not only a study of classical music in its different periods which is fundamental, but also she dominates the different styles and musical variants. As vocalist soprano she recommends vocal techniques and she is able to join other instruments during the same curriculum.

Brewda's Method requires discipline and commitment, two qualities that have led my 11-year-old daughter in just three years, to take, to face and to overcome unprecedented obstacles. Mrs. Irene Brewda is passionate, meticulous, rigorous and absolutely committed to success and academic-musical progress, which results in sustained and progressive advances of your son in a short time.

Mrs. Irene has taught my daughter to value the music as a fundamental tool in the integral development of the human mind. The maximization of her discipline in other areas of study as well as her capacity of assimilation.

Mrs. Irene Brewda ensures that your child will be encouraged and receive a high-level of challenges to help them achieve their highest potential.

Sincerely,

Daniela Rodriguez-Chang
